

Problem statement.

- High liquidation risk borrowing on most lending platforms due to collateral price volatility.
- The limited ability to utilize real-world assets on the Algorand network restricts financial possibilities and hinders the growth of the broader Web3 ecosystem.
- Current solutions lack adherence to regulatory standards of permissioned assets, limiting the trust and participation of users.
- In the rapidly evolving landscape of blockchain and decentralized finance, interoperability remains a key challenge.